The house, situated in Uluwatu on the Zimbali Coastal Estate features bold, modern elements and strong architectural furniture which creates a confident backdrop. The striking colour palette of the home nestled in a hillside of natural vegetation, compliments its cosmopolitan interior.

This delightful holiday home was placed in the care of Design Ahead interior designer Stacey-Lee, who turned the home into a classic reinvented. In essence, the home is functional yet contemporary in design. With its natural exterior finishes and stylish outdoor furniture, it is suited to the tranquil surroundings of its setting and completes the restful outdoor ambience.

The interior is open and spacious, with light walls, floors and ceilings that capture the day's sunlight and reflect it around the various rooms. The focus was placed on the living and dining areas with their uncluttered selection of modern yet functional pieces.

The kitchen is equipped with a practical, yet stylish, preparation island and state-of-the-art appliances. In the lounge, the furniture features solid colours of striking combinations accented with décor accessories in a variety of softer shades.

Rich, earthy tones were chosen for the furniture and bright touches of colour and unique designs were added in the form of scatter cushions, allowing large uncluttered spaces for open living and entertaining guests.

In the bedrooms you'll find breezy bedding that could turn any room into a welcoming retreat with its sumptuous summer styled bed linen in watery blue hues and fun sea-styled prints. To accentuate the warm, cosy feel of the bedrooms, special care went into selecting the decorative yet soft lighting features to complete what truly is an inspiring visual ensemble. The bathroom's colour palette, comprising creams and browns adds to the sense of serenity, perfect for relaxation and rest.

The home truly blurs the lines between classic and playful, creating a unique escape for the Keve family that is both tranquil and intriguing.
